It's okay to peek at Santa! He's coming to town on Friday at 1:30 and will be at 155 King Street to see if Mayor Riley has been naughty or nice. Santa wants to make sure that his sleigh can make a smooth landing on Lower King during the Streetscape break. Join us for the fun!

Repairs and re-linings of the laterals continue until Streetscape operations cease on Friday afternoon, November 21st. The crew will return in January to finish this on-going process.

The bluestone sidewalk is now installed between Market Street and 204 King Street. Hooray! The sidewalk will be burnished in a sloped curb at the ends of the block.

January. Treewells have been constructed. Lamp posts will be installed later in the project.

Demo and hardscaping of the other half of this block will begin in mid-January.

A temporary asphalt walkway has been laid in the block of Fulton Lane to Clifford Street and includes a sloped curb at the ends of the block. This smooth surface will make it easy for pedestrian and wheeled access to the shops.

In January, installation of the electrical vault on King Street near Queen Street will begin.

A holiday advertisement for Lower King Street naming the businesses is on page 22 of this week's City Paper. There will be a general ad for King Street in next week's paper. Ads are also being run in neighborhood papers in the Charleston area this week and next. Banner installation is imminent
